DATA ON LIQUOR CONTROL PROVES SENATE PUZZLE

Bewildering Mass Of Information Was Given By Commission

BY S. B. BLEDSOE
Washington, Feb. 21—(AP)—The Senate had before it today a bewildering mass of documents, data and testimony on liquor control from the Wickersham Commission.

It represented part of the material on which the commission made its conflicting report on prohibition. Secret testimony was missing. The views of Secretary Mellon, Attorney General Mitchell and other officials were not included. Standing out from the mass was Prohibition Director Woodcock's suggestion, made before taking the office, that "home option" was the solution of the liquor problem.

The pile revealed also that John Motley Morehead, Minister to Sweden, urged a modification of the Swedish system of liquor control for the United States. Mabel Walker Wilebrandt's defense of the legality of grape concentrates was detailed.

Recommendations for a veritable army of Federal officers to enforce prohibition; attacks on the dry laws by labor leaders and reports on conditions in 32 states were included in the data submitted.

Comfort For Both Sides
It seemed as controversy-provoking as the much discussed commission report itself, and like the report, furnished comfort for both wets and dries.

The Senate is expected to take no action at present as a result of the glimpse behind the commission scenes. It may cause argument but even that is not expected to be extensive. March 4 is at hand and the Senate is weary.

The material was transmitted late yesterday to the Senate in response to a resolution by Senator Tydings, Democrat, Maryland, an opponent of the liquor laws.

Woodcock's suggestion that leaving liquor undisturbed in private homes might close the lid on pandora's prohibition box was unique and startling. It was made while he was special investigator for the commission only a little while before he became Prohibition Director. He said his plan could be put into effect "by a simple administrative policy."

"The citizen could not claim the right to buy or sell liquors," he added. "But if he possesses liquor, or makes liquor in his home, and in such a way as not to be observed by the public and if he properly supports his family, this policy would require that he be not disturbed."

"If he fails in a single public duty, if he breaks the peace in any way, if he fails to take care of his family, if he fails to keep himself fit to perform any public duty, the state steps in and punishes."

Orthodox Report

The home control plan was only a part of Woodcock's report but the remainder was more orthodox. He was optimistic over conditions generally and said he believed they could be improved.

Support for the revision program advanced by Henry W. Anderson, Richmond, Virginia, commission member, was seen in testimony of Minister Morehead, who said the Bratt system in force in Sweden was successful because it takes away from the private individual any profit.

He added he believed it would be a success in this country with some modifications.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "it is the one system in the world that does work. It produces revenue for the country. The people are satisfied."

Mrs. Willibrand, former Assistant Attorney General in charge of prohibition, who has as client California fruit industries, makers of grape concentrates which turn into wine if given the opportunity, told the commission the grape concentrate business is legal, and said it was "the thought of Congress to lift the heavy hand of the Volstead act from interfering with family habits so far as is possible under the eighteenth amendment."

"A steady reveals," she added, "that Congress was just as liberal and as plain as it could be."

Twelve labor leaders who presented their views to a commission subcommittee, however, indicated they felt prohibition had been found wanting. All agreed conditions were bad and those who made recommendations urged revision or modification for light wines and beers.

The group included Andrew Furuseth of the International Seamen's Union, John P. Frey of the American Federation of Labor, and A. O. Wharton, Federation Vice President.

Missouri ex-service men would be permitted to hunt and fish without licenses under terms of a bill before the legislature.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

REAL REDUCING
Chicago, Feb. 21—(AP)—The reduction business worked two ways in a Turkish bath house yesterday.

Three men were in the steam room, lopping off pounds when a well dressed stranger came in, produced a pistol and ordered them upstairs to their lockers.

Wrapping themselves up in sheets, the three accompanied the robber to the next floor where they were compelled to reach in and reduce the size of their bankrolls by handing over what they had in their pockets. The well dressed stranger left no address, neither did his three victims.

"GIRDLED" WIFE
Batavia, N. Y., Feb. 21—(UP)—For 30 years, a wife of a man who was a member of nine children has been wearing the girdle which her husband, John, 44, locked on her six months after their marriage to "prevent unfaithfulness," according to the story she told her mother after fleeing from her home on a farm near here.

Bartz is held on a charge of second degree assault with the possibility of more serious charges being lodged after an investigation is completed.

Mrs. Bartz was taken to the Batavia hospital where physicians said her condition was serious. She was suffering from a beating alleged to have been administered by her husband.

DOG MOURNS PAL
Chicago, Feb. 21—(UP)—A mongrel dog sat staring today at a fading blotch on the 48th Street pavement and kept residents away as howled a requiem for his terrier playmate who had died there a few hours earlier.

The dogs were romping together in the street last night. The terrier was clean and sleek. He apparently was somebody's pet. The mongrel, lean and ugly, was tramping as his pampered friend. Their play ended suddenly when an automobile hit the terrier.

A crowd began to gather as the mongrel sat beside the body of his friend and howled. If anyone approached too near, the mongrel growled and snapped at them. The crowd grew to several hundred. They stood in a circle about the howling dog and the body of his pal.

Police officers lassoed the mongrel and dragged him away. But freed him after removing the terrier's body. The dog faced back to the spot which his friend's blood had marked upon the pavement. The requiem began.

Officers said they would not drive him away unless some complain, none did and four hours later he still was there, still howling.

ONE AMERICAN KILLED DURING PERUVIAN FIGHT

Incipient Revolution Quelled: Martial Law Prevails

By G. F. FINE
United Press Staff Correspondent, Lima, Peru, Feb. 21—(UP)—The provisional government of Luis M. Sanchez Cerro continued to control Peru under martial law today after an uprising and battle last night at the historic fort of Real Felipe, adjoining Callao, costing 60 lives, including one American.

While complete official figures had not been compiled, it was believed that if the casualties, about 40 were from federal troops and about 20 were rebels.

The American, Reginald A. Skidmore of Bethlehem, Pa., was killed by a stray bullet while lunching at the Foreign Club.

Although a government message was issued saying the rebellion was quelled and the "situation was under control," heavy patrols marched the streets here and in the Capital's port due to general uneasiness caused by fighting.

The rebels, under leadership of General Pablo Martinez, retreated to the ancient fort after an unsuccessful attempt to seize the presidential palace here.

Loyal troops were dispatched and the battle which ensued lasted from mid-morning till late afternoon, when a white flag was hoisted over the buttress of the fort.

The surviving attackers were arrested. They will be tried for treason late.

No explanation of the uprising was forthcoming from the government heads but it was rumored that the insurgents sought to free former President Augusto B. Leguia, overthrown by the present regime last fall.

With the assurance of safety supplied through martial law the numerous shops which closed during the trouble yesterday were opened today and the city again took on an appearance of peace. Troops were placed at vantage points and at all banks.

ACCUSE WOMEN OF MURDER OF OCTOGENARIAN

Enough Poison To Kill Forty Men Found In His Stomach

Los Angeles, Feb. 21—(UP)—Two women were under arrest today in connection with the death by poisoning of August Lindstrom, 82, father of Peter H. Lindstrom, wealthy Chicagoan.

Upon request of the son, the elder Lindstrom's body was exhumed at Williams, Ariz., and brought here, where chemists discovered the stomach contained "enough poison to kill 40 men."

The women held were Mrs. Esther Carlson, 62, for 15 years Lindstrom's housekeeper, and Mrs. Anna Erickson, his neighbor.

Police Capt. William Bright said Mrs. Carlson, who was formally charged with murder, told him "Mrs. Erickson put me up to it."

Mrs. Erickson, herself a victim of poison, was under technical arrest at General Hospital. Physicians said they found arsenic in her stomach.

Capt. Bright said Mrs. Carlson and Lindstrom had a joint bank account, which was withdrawn the day before Lindstrom died. Mrs. Erickson, he said, withdrew the money by means of a note of authorization from Mrs. Carlson.

The officer said also that a week before Lindstrom died the two women inquired at the bank as to how the money could be withdrawn in event of Lindstrom's death.

GREAT ACTION AND COMEDY IN CORPORAL EAGEN

Moose Performances Monday And Tuesday Promise Pleasure

"Corporal Eagen" is a play with not only a lot of action and comedy and musical numbers, but it also portrays some of the regular army scenes, such as might be seen in any army camp. The show opens with reveille, and all the rookies come tumbling out of the barracks for early morning formation. The top sergeant commands this bunch of men and he is plenty tough. In the third act, when Red Eagen gets to be corporal, he drills this same squad, and proclaims them the dumbest bunch of rookies he has ever seen "in all his years of service."

One of the sensational spots of the show is the guard scene, at the beginning of the third act. The house is dark, except for the flitting now and then across the stage. Red is sentinelled and it is at this time that he captures the spy. He is attacked, and quite by accident the colored soldier saves his life and enables him to capture the spy. But when the Corporal of the Guard comes in, Red tells what a wonderful feat he has accomplished and what a hard struggle he had with the spy. It is this incident, that wins him a promotion.

A very capable cast is presenting "Corporal Eagen," and patrons will be repaid with two hours of hearty laughter by attending the performances next Monday and Tuesday evenings, at 8:15 P. M., at Moose Hall. Tickets are now on sale at Schildberg's Drug Store, First and Peoria.

Kraft Failed To Make Good: Jailed
Herman Kraft, farm laborer, aged 53 years, was sent to the county jail this morning when he failed to pay a fine of $200 and costs assessed by Justice W. T. Tell in police court.

Charge of possession and transportation of intoxicating liquor. The fine was the maximum amount assessable under the city's liquor ordinance.

Kraft was arrested Thursday afternoon when police were called to the west end of the city and found him lying on the ground. He had a bottle of alcohol when arrested. A fine of $10 and costs was assessed about noon yesterday by Justice Tell in police court on an intoxication charge and upon Kraft's promise to return to his work on a farm in Palmyra township, Mayor Frank D. Palmer suggested he be paroled and the fine of $100 and costs for transporting intoxicating liquor be suspended on his promise of good behavior. Yesterday afternoon Kraft was again arrested by the police and when searched was found to have acquired another supply of liquor both internally and externally, which he claimed to have purchased from a tall stranger in an alley in the business district.

Funds embezzled by a wife without knowledge of her husband cannot be seized as income for taxing purposes, the Wisconsin tax commission ruled.

Liberty Bell in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, will be struck for the last time, probably, for one hundred years during the George Washington Bicentennial program to be presented over a network of NBC stations tomorrow afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock Central Standard Time. KYW is the Chicago outlet.

Hon. Harry Mackey, mayor of Philadelphia, will strike the bell thirteen times as a mark of tribute to the thirteen original states in the Union. Due to the condition of the bell and the possible danger of injury it is considered unlikely that it will be sounded again for many years.

Brief talks have been scheduled to be given by Congressmen James M. Beck, of Pennsylvania, and Sol. M. Bloom of New York.

IS APPREHENDED ON SPENCER, IA. FARM THIS MORN

Three Companions In Kidnaping To Go To Trial Monday

Kewanee, Ill., Feb. 21—(AP)—Orville Whiskers, last of the quartet accused of kidnaping Earl Yocum for $50,000 ransom last October, was captured on a farm near Spencer, Ia., today.

His alleged confederates are to go on trial Monday in Henry county circuit court on the kidnaping charge, punishable in Illinois by death.

Three officers found Whiskers on the farm of Paul Enninger, six miles south of Spencer, where he has been working since shortly after the Galva banker was taken captive and held five days for a reward.

Sheriff Fred E. Erickson of Clay county, Iowa, Harry Wiley, his deputy, and Deputy Sheriff Charles Nash of Henry County, Illinois, arrested him.

Recognized Officer.
Whiskers immediately recognized Nash, who was Sheriff last fall and has kept on his trial four months. He agreed to waive extradition and return with Nash to Illinois where, he said, he expects "a hard rap."

Vernon Ahlgren, Lloyd Winslow and Harry Whiskers, cousin of Orville, are to face a jury Monday. Orville Whiskers probably will be tried separately, as he must first be arraigned.

Yocum, president of a Galva Bank, was kidnaped from in front of his home last Oct. 25. Mystery shrouded his disappearance for several days, his wife and the authorities working quietly to outwit his captors and prevent injury to him. Mrs. Yocum answered a demand for $50,000 by wrapping a block of wood and leaving it at the appointed spot.

On the fifth morning after his disappearance Yocum was liberated and returned unharmed. On by one of the alleged kidnapers were surrounded by posses and lodged in Henry county jail, where they await trial.

The slain aide was Maj. A. Topalaj and the chamberlain, expected to die, is Memmed Bey Libuhova, credited with being the brains of the Zog regime.

The party was in the arcade of the theatre when the assassins opened fire. In the short battle which followed the king and his men were "shot it out" with their attackers fired a score or more shots in the crowded arcade.

VETERANS LOAN BILL MAY MEAN EXTRA SESSION

Congress May Be Called Back To Provide Money For Big Loans

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Washington, Feb. 21—(AP)—President Hoover today began planning his veto message on the veterans loan bill while administration leaders search for votes to sustain it.

Although the measure will not be returned to Congress until next Wednesday or Thursday, Republican chieftains saw scant chance of boosting to the required number for sustaining the veto the meagre band of opponents.

Rumors spread through the Capitol that the President in its veto message might assert that if the legislation, allowing World War veterans to borrow half the face value of their compensation certificates, were enacted over the veto he would be forced to call an extra session this spring to provide funds.

This was circulated by responsible party leaders but they spoke of it only as a rumor; refused to take responsibility for it and said nothing definite was known as to what Mr. Hoover would say. Most of them scouted it, but it caused plenty of speculation. Whether such a threat would bring into line enough members who object to an extra session of the new Congress also

SOCIETY

An Advance Glimpse of the Spring Style Parade—

Jaunty Two-Piece Costumes Are New in Colors and Fabrics

Jaunty suits, two-piece frocks, in new fabrics and new colors promise unusually interesting fashion parades this spring. Left to right: Three-quarters sleeves, edged in fox, a bloused and belted tunic waist and a vestee and belt of white kid are fascinating style points in a rich violet colored flat crepe street costume, displayed at the charity benefit for Everybody's Thrift Club in New York City by Frederica Gallatin. A double-breasted, cutaway jacket and wrap-around skirt and a gilet, with stock collar, of white pique, give individuality and tremendous chic to a new spring suit of monotone blue tweed, modelled by Elizabeth Campbell, Social Registerite. The black-white combination ranks next to blues as spring's favorite color combination. Camilla Marvin, a society leader, displayed an ultra feminine little black shantung street suit, with white lace embroidery edging the flaring seven-eighths cuffs, outlining the long bolero and fashioning the sweet, little collared blouse. Short sleeves, long sleeves and a fancy Rodier scarf collar in brown, white and beige, with fringed ends mark a golden beige silk street frock as very new and very smart. It is belted at bit high and has its sleeves and hemline finished in hand-made points. Edith Betts, Social Registerite, showed it.

He may cry, but let him. He'll stop after a few nights of it. There is one thing sure, he will never "learn any younger."

Another thing at which the learned now look askance is the old ceremony of telling exciting stories before bedtime. The time before the Sandman's calls should be quiet and any stimulation that sets nerve machinery to buzzing. Imagination is a nerve effort and probably more people the world over lie away making mental pictures, happy or otherwise, than do so from any other cause.

Children also borrow family worries and exaggerate them. Many a child has lain awake from sheer fear of something generated by the family, that has buried itself in his small consciousness to fester there later.

Happiness, regularity and a cheerful acceptance of sleep usually brings a good amount of exercise, and is fed properly at the right time.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
©1931 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

I do not know why there should be a constant battle with small children about sleep.

The truth is I do know, but it is not easy to indict mothers who have this daily siege. As a matter of fact it is seldom the fault of the children.

To begin with, we ourselves fight sleep. We don't like to go to bed, settle down, relax and close our eyes. We all resist it. We speak of sleep as we speak of medicine and remark rather proudly before the little folk "that we simply cannot sleep in the daytime and do not do much better at night."

They begin to think of sleep as something to be overcome. Without much question the household that accepts its sleeping time naturally and regularly will find its children doing the same.

That is part of it. The next thing is that as long as the children are in their napping years they are frequently allowed to sleep too long and too late during the day. In that case it would be queer if they could drop off easily and unprotestingly again at seven or even eight, or nine o'clock in the evening.

Children should get up early, nap early, and go to bed early.

Answering Children's Calls

Another way in which mothers unwittingly "condition" their children into playing depot at retiring time is by humoring them in their night-bell demands.

"I'm thirsty," "It's too hot," "I forgot my dolly," "I hear a funny sound," "I'm scared!"

Trips up and down the stairs for an hour or so until exhaustion on both sides puts an end to the farce.

If a mother knows her child to be well safe and comfortable, that there is a glass of water within reach, then a closed door means a closed door and that's an end to it.

BERT COOKSLEY
THERE is a wisdom in the love of earth;
There is a friendship in the valley's hand
Say what you will of books and their fine worth,
They have no value till we understand.

The tree's huge labor breaking through the soil,
The silence of this hill against the sky,
The plow that furrows and the seedling's toil,
The awful quiet in which oak trees die.

They have no value till we sense the surge
Of rivers put beneath a forest bed,
Of sun and wind and rain whose lives must urge
The flower's breath, the apple's green to red.

Delightful Farewell Surprise For the Fassler Family

Well over a hundred friends and neighbors of the Frank Fassler family gathered at the Palmyra town hall Thursday evening to honor these estimable folk who are leaving the Dr. Law farm, where they have resided for twenty years. They are moving March 1st to the Warren Leake farm on route 2 which they have purchased.

This party was sponsored by a group of near neighbors and by the Wolverine school, which furnished a delightful program as a farewell to the youngest son of the family, Walter, who is a pupil of the school. Mrs. Charles Redebaugh is the charming and capable teacher of this group of children who took their parts with such enthusiasm. Miss Leota Rutt, accompanied by Mrs. Wesley Rutt, delighted her audience with several violin and vocal solos, and Miss Helen Friedericks also contributed a piano solo which was much enjoyed.

The Fassler family was presented a beautiful occasional chair and table by the assembled friends, the presentation speech being made by Mr. A. J. Hall in a very clever and happily worded speech in which the honored guests were urged to remember that one use of the "occasional" chair was to remind them to occasionally come back to their old neighborhood and renew old ties.

A bounteous lunch of sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad, cake and coffee was served and a happy social hour followed during which Mr. and Mrs. Fassler and their five stalwart sons—Joe, Frank, Albert, John and Walter—received the regretful farewells of their neighbors of many years' standing and their best wishes for future joys in their new home.

Birthday Surprise For Miss Mensch Delightful Affair

A number of friends participated in a happy birthday surprise last evening for Miss Iva Mensch. She had been invited to dinner with her sister, Miss Eva Mensch, at the home of the Misses Cara and Henrietta Buchman. When they arrived at the Buchman home she found a group of friends intent on celebrating her birthday anniversary which occurred yesterday. A delicious dinner was served at quarter table, preceding an evening at bridge. The decorations were lovely and were in pink, pink tapers and flowers and favors, all in this dainty hue. A large birthday cake bearing the requisite number of glowing pink candles graced the center of the table at which Miss Mensch was seated.

At bridge Miss Freida Johnson won the favor for high honors and Miss Nina Tennant was awarded the favor for second honors. Miss Mensch was presented a lovely guest gift. All present spent a delightful evening at the Buchman home and departed at a late hour with best wishes for future happy birthdays for Miss Mensch.

Observe Washington's Birthday in Different Form at Capital

Washington, Feb. 21—(AP)—Because Washington's birthday anniversary comes on Sunday this year, observance of the day by the nation's officials will depart from the usual pattern.

President Hoover who last year appeared with official pomp at the spectacular celebration of Alexandria, Va., will quietly in Washington's pew at Christ's church. Probably he will continue to Mount Vernon to place a wreath at Washington's tomb.

With Mrs. Hoover away—she hurried from the final official reception of the season to Asheville, North Carolina, for a visit with her convalescing son—White House dwellers were somewhat vague as to the Washington birthday plans for Peggy Ann, Herbert Jr., and Baby Joan.

They said if any red-cherry brand of gaiety entered into the day's program, of the grandchildren, it probably would be spontaneous. And of course there was the possibility, if prevailing bad weather should change to fair, The Hoover children might even accompany their presidential grandfather to Alexander and Mount Vernon.

On an ordinary Washington's birthday, Peggy Ann and Herbert, Jr. young as they are, would find in Alexandria a celebration they remember the rest of their lives. It's a traditional affair, hands playing, horses prancing, cherries and cocked hats everywhere. But a Sabbath anniversary sees a more serious observance in the town where Washington went to church.

Members of Congress, too, will experience an unexpected swerve from Washington's birthday tradition. For years too numerous to count, Washington's farewell address has been read on this birthday. This year, with the observance scheduled for Monday, the 23rd, Representative Beck of Pennsylvania will deliver an address on Washington.

Lieut. Colonel Weeks Commended for Tribute to Heroic Mother

Washington, Feb. 21—(AP)—The War Department forgot sabers and spurs long enough today to commend officially one of its officers—not for a deed of heroism but for his tribute to his dead mother.

The officer was Lieutenant Colonel Harold J. Weeks of Chattanooga, Tenn. His mother was Julia Shoemaker Weeks, daughter of an Army officer, who went to the frontier country in 1871 as the wife of an Army Lieutenant.

Colonel Weeks after his mother's recent death, wrote a brief obituary of her life for a publication devoted to service activities. It came to the attention of General Staff officers and through them to Secretary Hurley.

"Never in her life did I hear the word 'can't' come from her lips," Colonel Weeks wrote. "Tears, yes, but only tears that mourned the dead, who could not be with her to watch over the growing brood. She sent the only son old enough away to serve in the Philippines. When next her country called she sent two sons to France and four were in Army camps at home. No heroes, no pictures of 'The Gallant Mother,' no looking for sympathy, just duty as the tradition. May the sons be worthy of the life Julia Shoemaker Weeks gave to her country."

Secretary Hurley was touched, he wrote the Colonel:
"The beautiful tribute to your noble mother made a deep impression upon me. As I read it, the picture of the frontier was vividly present, the Army protecting the march west of the covered wagons of frontier days. I can measure the depth of the affection you rightly have for your mother's memory and how proudly you revere her life and accomplishments. In that reverence the Army joins, for it is in the service of such noble women that the safety of the nation must largely rest."

ENTERTAINED FRIENDS THIS EVENING—Mr. and Mrs. W. Niebergall of Dixon avenue, entertained a few friends this evening.

to commend her. What, I have often thought, has that immortalized Mona Lisa? Personally I don't like her looks a bit. But she certainly has cast a spell over the whole world just by that inscrutable smile and those placidly folded hands.

I should like to suggest that all of you take inventory some day when your digestion is good and you are in a happy frame of mind. Look your features over, with a new colored light to reflect them, and practice up on the pleasantest expression you can get out of that face of yours. Look at the way your hair grows and the way your eyebrows are shaped. Maybe there is a hitherto unforeseen arch to your brows that would stir the pride in you a little. After all, I think we should all have pride in our appearance. The mistake American women make is not to make the most of themselves and to have a genuine pride in their differences from standardized beauty, but to have after the moon, which is probably a face like Greta Garbo's, in more instances than one.

Last, but not least, after you have restored your own self respect and pride by realizing that after all, your delicate coloring is rather appealing, or your hair has a fairly good sheen, all in all, or maybe your cheeks have a dimple or two you have not capitalized as you should, then take a look at your spiritual qualities that are reflected in your eyes, the way you carry your head and your walk.

There is an unfading beauty in a face that shows thoughtfulness and consideration for others. There is an appeal about a person who has a spiritual life all her own. Don't think you can look reflective just by trying to. Your face tells the world exactly how much you devote your time to yourself exclusively and how much to others.

For there are all kinds of beauty. You can have beauty inside and outside your head if you so will it. And it's a combination hard to beat!

Bodies Of Lincolns Returned To Crypts

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 20—(UP)—Removed temporarily from the crypts pending reconstruction of Lincoln's tomb the remains of four members of the Lincoln family have been returned to the structure and bricked into place, according to the state Department of Public Works and Buildings here today.

The bodies were those of Mrs. Lincoln and three sons, Eddie, Willie and Thomas (Tad).

Secrecy guarded the removal of the bodies from the tomb and also regarding their place of safe keeping. The time of their return. Work is progressing rapidly on the remodeling of the tomb and the building is expected to be completed in May. Dedication services are being planned to which President Hoover has been invited.

THE END OF A LEGEND.

One trouble with the world these days is that there are so many people who like to go about destroying all of our harmless and pleasant little illusions.

There is, for instance, Miss Beatrice Grimshaw, who declares—in her recent book, "Isles of Adventure"—that there are no more cannibals in New Guinea.

She qualifies it a little, of course. There are a few, 'way back in the hills; but they are rather ashamed of it, and they are dying out anyhow, and nobody in New Guinea is in the slightest danger of being plopped into some cannibal chieftain's dinner pot.

Here, we submit, is a fine sample of subversive literature. If there are no cannibals in New Guinea, there should be some. At the very worst, nobody ought to come right out and reveal the uninspiring truth. The world is getting prosaic enough as it is. We have a right to keep a few of the old traditions.

The trouble really began several hundred years ago. When Columbus headed across the Atlantic and, instead of reaching China, bumped into a wild and sparsely settled continent, he killed a whole set of exciting traditions. To be sure, he led to the creation of many new ones; for years thereafter people could dream of the golden city of Manoa, and the seven cities of Cibola, and that weird land in the northwest where men's faces grew out of their chests, and tribes of fair-skinned, wondrously-beautiful Amazons ruled the country. But those legends, in their turn, faded and were no more; and by the time the twentieth century arrived the really stirring tales of distant lands were few indeed.

As a matter of fact, the explorer is a less useful creature than he is supposed to be. He is supposed to be a visionary, but in reality he is all too practical. The true visionary would be content to dream about fabled lands and perilous seas; the explorer goes and looks at them, in the flesh, and never any more are they places of fable and alluring peril. Instead they become mere markets for the exporters of New York and Hamburg, or coaling stations for the oddly-named cruisers and gunboats of the British fleet.

How many places are there left, on all the globe, about which one can let one's imagination run wild, unchecked by any prosaic facts? You could count them on the fingers of one hand. The polar regions, the Gobi desert, the African interior, the islands of the Pacific—their mysteries are vanishing like snow under an April sun. We know altogether too much as it is. If we must have more books describing these places, let them be written by talented and imaginative liars.

A TRIFLE PROTRACTED.

The delays of the law are proverbial; but occasionally a case illustrates the snail-like progress of our judicial machinery so excellently that it is worth citing in detail.

In October of 1929 a New York jury indicted the directors of a certain bank that had failed. That, as such things go, is relatively a long time ago. But it was just the other day that the New York court of appeals ruled that the indictment was valid, and that the indictment men may be brought to trial on it.

Here, then, we have a delay of approximately 16 months before even so much as the validity of the indictment had been established. At that rate a final verdict as to the guilt or innocence of the accused men ought to be ready, say, by 1936.

If that were an isolated instance, of course, it would not be important. But it is not isolated, nor is it peculiar to New York. It is typical of the sort of delay that is always cropping out in American criminal procedure; and it is one of the chief reasons for the prevalence of crime in the nation today.

BAD NEWS FROM THE CAMPUS.

According to the raids made by police on University of Michigan fraternity houses, undergraduate drinking must be almost as prevalent as some of the calamity howlers have been insisting.

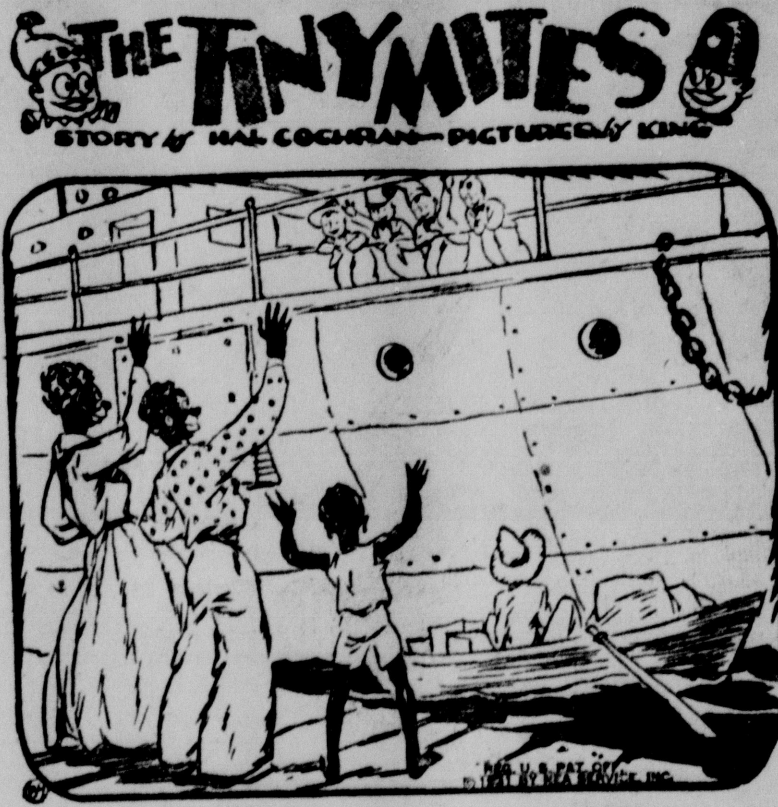

In one house, two suitcases full of whisky were seized. In another, there were seized 12 quarts and 12 pints; in another, 10 quarts, and half a case of beer; in another, a suitcase full of whisky; in another, six quarts.

Such supplies would not accumulate unless there was more than a little guzzling going on. The revelation is one of the most shocking to come from an American campus in many years.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Travel Man said, "This big hat is not becoming. It's too flat. You see, I am a plump man and I need a larger lid. This wizen hat looks fine on some, but as for me, I just look dumb. Just leave it with the weaver." So, that's just what Clowdy did.

Then Scouty asked the weaver man, "Please tell me, Mister, how you can make hats like these. They're simply great to wear beneath the sun." The weaver said, "I will be glad to show you how it's done my lad. When you know how to weave just right, it isn't work. It's fun."

And then he got some strands of straw, and as the Tinies watched in awe, he worked a big hat into shape and put it on his head. "Well, how does that look, now?" he cried. "To make a nice one I have tried." "I must admit it's wonderful and looks fine," Scouty said.

The Travel Man then called the bunch and said, "I have a happy bunch that we will leave Tular today. We've seen all of the sights. There yet is much that we must see in other distant countries. Gee, let's hurry right down to the docks. I see some big boat's lights."

So, in the dusk, they ran along down to the docks. A breeze, quite strong was blowing. Clowdy promptly said, "Let's travel on a ship. The wind will make a sea trip fine. A real cool night's just right for mine. Let's head right back to Africa. We'll all enjoy this trip."

The Travel Man replied, "You're right and we are leaving here tonight." They bought their passage on a boat and promptly went aboard. 'Twas daybreak, though, ere they were gone. The big ship didn't leave till dawn. Then, as the big ship left the dock, "We're moving!" Scouty roared.

(The Tinies have a funny street car ride in the next story.)

CARDINAL NEWMAN'S BIRTH

On February 21, 1801, Cardinal John Henry Newman, an English religious leader, first in the Church of England and later in the Roman Catholic church, was born in London, the son of a banker.

He graduated with honors from Trinity College, Oxford, in 1820. Four years later he was ordained to the ministry of the Anglican church. For writing a tract concerning Catholic doctrines in the Church of England he was severely condemned by officials of the Anglican church.

After three years of retirement, Newman became a convert to the Roman Catholic church. As he had exerted great influence among the Anglicans, the effect of this step was great. He went to Rome and was ordained a priest.

In 1877 Newman was elected an honorary fellow of Trinity College, Oxford, and revisited his Alma Mater for the first time in 22 years. Leo XIII created him cardinal in 1879, allowing him still to reside in England. He died at Birmingham, England, in 1890.

P. T. A. Notes
The regular meeting of the P.T.A. was held Friday evening at the high school auditorium. L. J. Miller, chairman, presided. The program consisted of musical numbers given by the primary room, advanced room, and a vocal solo given by Donald Zoeller. These numbers gave those present an idea of what our music department is doing under the supervision of Mrs. Rorick.

The address of the evening was an inspiring one given by Hale, personnel director of Beloit college. Mr. Hale in his address stressed the point of the changing world, showing us that it was our duty to see that our children were educated in such a manner so as to be able to meet these changes. His talk was appreciated by all.

The regular business of the association was then taken care of. The report of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved. Mr. Miller followed this with a few timely remarks concerning his position on the motion of the last meeting which authorized the appointment of a committee to study the conditions of our school. It was appointed, and Mr. Miller turned the remainder of the evening over to the chairman of the committee to tell what had been done.

Supt. Hanson, chairman of the committee of eleven members appointed, took charge of the meeting. A report of the committee of three that had been selected to investigate the figures published in the last issue of The Reporter, was called for. The members of this committee were Ira Buck, I. G. Trostle and Frank Kessler. Mr. Buck reported to the association that the committee had gone to Dixon and carefully looked into the figures and found them to be practically the same as those in the paper. The remainder of the evening was used for explaining and answering questions on the proposition of establishing a larger high school district in our community. The figures explaining how the proposition would work out, and how our community was annually losing by not having such a district were discussed. After a lengthy discussion a motion was made by George Spangler and seconded by Dr. Moore that a petition be circulated describing the territory in our community so as to bring some positive action on the proposition. The motion also wanted our boundary lines assured. A vote on the motion clearly showed the interest of the P. T. A. organization concerning the movement. It carried without a dissenting vote. Bela Halderman then circulated a petition which had been previously prepared by members of the committee of eleven.

Those who had signed the petition were secured at the meeting to assure the organization that the proposition would be voted upon at some future date. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Junior Class Play
The Junior class play "It Hau-pened in June." is a lively farce comedy in three acts, full of amusing situations, and built along lines that will enable all the members of the cast to appear to good advantage. The play will be presented in the high school auditorium in Franklin Grove on Thursday and Friday nights, February 26 and 27. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Brown of Oak Park were guests Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Brown.

The cast: Betty Bronson—a pretty young owner of the Shady Grove estate—Leona Phillips.

Susie Crundel—Betty's best friend and nearest neighbor—Ruth Cupp.

Nell Crundel—Susie's sixteen-year-old sister—Florence Butler.

Moile Jessop—cook for the Bronsons—Alice Edgington.

Evalina Scroggs—homeliest girl in the village—June Colon.

Charles Atkins—a young visitor in Shady Grove—Virgine Wasson.

Randy Stewart—his friend who sells insurance—Leland Blocher.

Jim Pritchett—a village character with nothing in particular to do—Eldon Wilson.

Jarvis Sneed—the meanest man in the county and president of the Shady Grove bank—Lawrence Canfield.

Scene—Living room in the Bronson home in the village of Shady Grove. Time—The present, during summer months.

"Not only is this a mighty fine play, in the first place," said Miss Patton, "but the members of the cast have shown surprising aptitude for dramatic work. I do not question that 'It Happened in June' as offered by the junior class, will be able to stand strictly on its own merit."

Mass Meeting Held
On Wednesday evening, February 18th, a mass meeting was held at the high school auditorium for the purpose of electing a board of directors for the proposed larger high school district for the community of Franklin Grove. A large and interested audience attended the meeting. The figures recommended by the committee of eleven were explained and discussed somewhat. The meeting was then opened for anyone to ask question on the plan proposed. Everyone was given an opportunity to speak for or against the plan. While there was some difference of opinion, it was the thought of all those who spoke on the question that something should be done to protect our school and community. At the close of the meeting an opportunity was given to sign a petition calling for an election at some future date to those who had not yet signed. Quite a number availed themselves of this privilege. An election will undoubtedly be called soon to decide the question. Everyone in the meantime should study the proposed plan carefully and make their decision for the good of our community.

All Men On Board
The following item taken from the proceedings of the Village Board will be of interest to the local readers of this column.

"Motion by Lincoln, seconded by Stultz, that the following judges and clerks be appointed for the Village election April 21, 1931: Judges, F. H. Maronde, Lloyd Group and Guy Wasson; clerks, Mark M. Trostle, Harry Maronde and Wm. F. Brown.

Obituary
Edith Buckner, daughter of William and Catherine Buckner was born December 26th, 1867 and died February 18th, 1931 aged 44 years, 2 months and 1 day, after an illness of three months.

The deceased was united in marriage to Bert Morgan November 27, 1907. To this union was born one son, Merrill, aged 19. Mrs. Morgan lived the greater part of her life in Franklin Grove. On March 5th, 1928 she united with the Presbyterian church on confession of faith. To this faith she was a devoted member until her death.

She leaves besides her husband and son to mourn her loss, her mother and one brother, Louis Buckner of Nelson, Illinois, her father having preceded her to the other world.

The death of Mrs. Morgan takes from the home a faithful wife and devoted mother; from the neighborhood, an obliging and thoughtful neighbor; from the community, a worker of value, as she was very much interested in local welfare of any nature. She will be greatly missed in the Woman's Club, the Kilo Club, the American Legion Auxiliary and the Library board where she was a most valuable member, having the interest of the library very much at heart. A good woman gone to her reward.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in the Presbyterian church, Rev. A. E. Thomas conducting the services. The very large attendance and the beautiful floral tribute gave proof of the high esteem in which she was held by the community. Burial in the local cemetery.

Entertained with Card Party
Mrs. Will Fisher and Mrs. Harold Fisher entertained thirty-two guests with a card party at the home of the former, Friday evening. Mrs. Ted Hintz won high prize in five hundred for the ladies and Reon Glessner for the men, while Mrs. Ernest Fair won low prize for the ladies and David Heagy for the men. During the playing of pitch Clar-ence Miller won high prize and Herman Haentisch low prize.

At a late hour love's refreshments were served by the hostesses, after which all departed for their homes feeling that it was an evening of real pleasure.

Brethren Notes
Next Sunday morning at the preaching service, a special offering will be taken for the General Mission Board, as they are recommending that each congregation make a special effort before March 1st, as it will be necessary to raise $100,000 in February if the full amount is raised. We would recommend that before March 1st our members see that their full share is paid to our local treasurer for our local church budget.

Silver Wedding Celebrated
The specious and hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Buck, was the scene of a happy gathering Saturday evening, February 14, when about ninety of their friends and relatives gathered to help celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. The home was attractively decorated for the occasion with cut flowers of red roses and carnations, bouquets of silver tinted flowers, also hearts, cupid and silver tinsel. An interesting program was given of both vocal and instrumental music, also several readings, one poem which was composed for the occasion by an uncle of the bride living in Pasadena, Cal., also a beautiful soliloquy on the silver anniversary written by a close friend of the family were read. An outstanding feature of the program was the reminiscences given concerning the host and hostess in which many interesting incidents never before related from their birth up to the present time. A humorous mock wedding ceremony which caused much hilarity was staged in which the principal parties made unusually binding promises for domestic tranquility.

Another interesting feature was a response from all present who were married from one to fifty years, respectively. This brought each couple present on the program while they told of some interesting incident in their married life. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Royer of Lanark, J. W. Buck and Mrs. Ellen Riddleberger were among those present who gave accounts of having celebrated their fiftieth, or golden wedding anniversary, some time ago.

A delicious two-course luncheon was served after which a slice of a beautiful decorated wedding cake was served to each guest by the hostess.

Out-of-town guests present were: Mrs. Frank Sehnman and son Doran, Mrs. W. H. Royer of Dallas Center, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lindquist of Marshalltown, Iowa; Kenneth Royer of Grinnell, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Royer, Robert and Marian of Lanark, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lizer, Mr. and Mrs. John Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Virgine Wasson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Royer of Mt. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross and son of Angboy, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Steder of Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burhenn of Ashton.

Mrs. W. H. Royer, Mrs. Sehnman, Mrs. Lindquist and O. D. Buck were among those present at the wedding which occurred twenty-five years ago at Dallas Center, Iowa. Mrs. Royer being the bridesmaid for the occasion.

Tokens of friendship and beautiful gifts. As the guests departed they extended to their host and hostess their best wishes or their continued joy and prosperity and many more wedding anniversaries.

Woman's Club Notes
The first garden meeting of the club was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Della Gilbert. The president, Mrs. Reigle, who drove here from Lanark, had brought with her Mrs. L. N. Deutsch, the county chairman, and as always she contributed much inspiration and help to the meeting.

One of the items of the business session was the unanimous carrying of a motion to request the senator of this district to vote against the repeal of the Illinois prohibition law, including the "Search and Seizure Act" which is a part of the law enforcement program of the state.

The program was presented by the department of Conservation and Gardens, co-operating. Roll call response was "A Walk in My Garden," each one giving a bit of personal garden experience. Mrs. Sunday chairman of the gardens, gave a list of suggestions for garden and planting plans for club work, both as individuals and as a community. One of these is for a Community Flower Show, to be held when the roses and peonies are at their best, probably in late June. Other seasonal flowerings will be included and all the flower-lovers of the community are asked to plan their planting so that they will have something ready for the June flower show.

Mrs. Durkes, chairman of Conservation, gave a short sketch of "George Washington as a Tree-Planter," and explained the Memorial Tree planting Plan which is being carried out by the American Tree Association as a part of the national celebration of the 200th anniversary of Washington's birthday. Communities and individuals throughout the nation are asked to help in this plan and the Woman's Club, in connection with other organizations of this community, will join in planting trees this spring to honor George Washington and to beautify the landscape as well.

Mrs. Deutsch gave a short talk on club work throughout the county and all were interested to know that all of the Lee county clubs are now federated with the state as well as the district organization. She also announced the district and state conventions to be held in May and urged that the Franklin Grove club be represented. The closing feature of the program was a delightful and amusing little skit arranged by Mrs. Brown, entitled "Over the Garden Gate". Four small-town neighbors, represented by Mrs. Ada Peterman, Mrs. Leland Hanson, Mrs. Wilbur Breunier and Miss Clara Lahman, talking over the back-yard fence, discussed seed catalogues, gardens, cooking, and, incidentally, neighborhood and Woman's club gossip. The material was all original and much of it impromptu, and the effect was certainly most pleasing and entertaining. The same four ladies then helped the hostess serve refreshments and a pleasant social half hour soon passed.

Weekly Sermonette

WHAT AFTER DEATH?

By REV. A. G. SUECHTING
Pastor Immanuel Lutheran Church.

If a Man Die, Shall He Live Again? Job 14:14.

As by one man sin entered into the world and death by sin, so death passed upon all men. The wages of sin is death. The day ye eat thereof ye shall surely die. Did Adam and Eve really die the day they ate of the forbidden fruit? Yes and no. Death is a separation, a parting. They were immediately driven from paradise, from the presence of God and out of reach of the tree of life. Death is a separation. Temporal or natural death is the separation of the body from the soul. Eternal death is the eternal separation of the soul from its creator and that is hell! The body is like a house, the home of the soul. When man closes his eyes in death the soul leaves its temporary abode. It immediately enters either paradise or hell. Did not Christ say to the penitent thief on the cross: Verily, today thou shalt be with me in paradise? Do we not confess in the apostles creed concerning Christ: He descended into hell? of course as victor over sin, death and the Devil. So that these trembled before the all-victorious Christ! The souls in paradise are awaiting the day of resurrection. Then they shall be clothed with the resurrection body, the new house of the soul, as Jesus said: In My Father's house are many mansions. The soul does not rest until it rests in God, said St. Augustine. Even as the dove that Noah released out of the ark found no rest for the sole of her foot and returned to the ark. If you would find rest and peace of mind and conscience you must return to the ark of God which is the church of Jesus Christ. You must heed the invitation of the Savior: Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest. There remaineth therefore a rest for the people of God.

How blissful the rest in that city so fair,
Where, dwelling with Jesus, the soul hath no care!
The sounding of harps in those mansions on high
Doth bid the soul welcome to heavenly joy.
Rest, rest, rest, rest, eternal rest,
I long to embrace thee, to be with the blest.

Another defeat was given Dixon last night at the hands of Belvidere. While the game lasted it looked as though either team had an even chance to win but the middle of the last quarter brought 3 field goals for Belvidere, winning the game. Strong and Carlson were put out on fouls and Cunningham from Belvidere was put out with four fouls. At the beginning of the last half Dixon started playing good basketball. All during the third quarter it was a good game of basketball but the fourth quarter changed in favor of Belvidere.

Heavyweight Game
The ball changed hands many times before a score was made. Lebre had a free throw but missed it and then Worley was fouled by Johnson. He was given two shots and he made one Johnson fouled Strong but he missed the free throw. Hasselburg was called for hacking Whitehead and Belvidere had one point. Whitehead made a basket right after that making the score 1-3. A foul was called on Hasselburg for cutting in on Johnson. He made the basket. Hilliker went in for Worley. Carlson fouled Whitehead and he was given two shots; made both and the score was 1-6. Whitehead pushed Carlson but the free throw was not made. Strong fouled Johnson and the free throw fell short. Score 1-6 at the quarter.

The second quarter started out with more pep when, after considerable passing back and forth, Lebre sank a goal from the side. On the very next play Strong dribbled down through Belvidere and made an under-the-basket shot. Score 5-6. A foul was called on Carlson for jumping with Johnson when he attempted to pass the ball. Johnson failed to make the extra point and was given another chance when Strong fouled him. He made it this time.

Cunningham tipped Lebre; but he missed the free throw. Johnson fouled Strong and the extra point was made. Strong fouled Whitehead and he made the extra point, 7-8.

Last Half
Dixon started to play basketball here and came close to scoring a number of times. Lebre and Whitehead made a free throw apiece; and Carlson was given a free throw which Whithead cut in on him but he missed it. Worley went in for Hilliker. Cunningham fouled Strong and the extra point was made. Worley fouled Bischoff who made the extra point. Score 9-10.

Carlson tripped Whitehead and was forced to leave the game with four fouls. Plozman came in for Carlson and Whitehead missed the free throw. Strong fouled Bischoff and was put out on fouls. Wolfe replacing him. Bischoff missed the extra point. Cunningham fouled Worley. The free throw was not made. Cunningham made a field goal and Dixon took time out. Wolfe was called for cutting in on Whitehead but the free throw fell short. Johnson made a field goal as the game ended 8-16.

Lightweight Game
The lightweight game was more of an even match. Miller was put out on fouls and none of the Dixon players had more than two fouls apiece. Bales and Mitchell each made a field goal and the other five points were made by free throws. Brown was the only substitute put in for Dixon and he took Potts place. Potts was back in the game though in time to make another free throw. Belvidere sent in four substitutes. The score was 6-7 at the half and the game ended 9-11.

BUT TWO MEN IN CAMP BELIEVED GENE WAS SURE

One Was Jim Bronson Of Missouri; Other Was Tunney Himself

By EDWARD J. NEIL
New York, Feb. 21—(AP)—Gene Tunney was stretched on a rubbing table in his training quarters at Stroudsburg, Pa., resting while Lou Fink kneaded his muscles. His first deal with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship was still a month away.

Old Bill McCabe, kindly, paternal, stuck his fuzzy white head through the half opened door. He glared at the newspaper men crowding around.

"Jimmy Bronson's here, Gene," he said.

Gene Tunney looked up at Bronson, serious faced, earnest. For a moment he thought he was being kidded. He realized he wasn't. He gripped Jim's hand tight.

"There are just two men who believe that," he said, and at that moment the man of destiny of this prize ring came into being.

Tunney never doubted after that that he would beat Dempsey. He flew to the scene of the fight in Philadelphia.

One Plan of Battle
He slept in his dressing room. The only plan of battle he had was one sentence from Bronson:

"The first time Dempsey cocks his left hook, break your right arm if you can on the first punch to the chin."

In the first round Dempsey drew back the left. Tunney threw everything he had into a right. It landed high on the side of the man's head. Dempsey's knees sagged. Two inches lower and it might have been a clean knockout. The bell rang and Tunney returned to his corner.

"I didn't break my arm," he said softly. "But I've won myself a fight."

Tunney loves boxing but hates the fight game. He is headed for Asia with an exploration expedition, partly because he was being tempted to come back.

He shuns publicity but he gets a mass of correspondence daily at his small office hidden away in the business quarters of a friend. He answers all letters himself.

Tunney never had a manager, though many held the title.

During his roadwork at Speculator, before the second Dempsey fight he'd often scratch a 20 foot ring in the dirt and practice running backwards. His handlers thought he was crazy until they saw him in the seventh round at Chicago.

Francis, Underdog, Beat Shea Easily
New York, Feb. 21—(AP)—Kid Francis, another of those well-known under-dogs, has overturned the dope in Madison Square Garden where short-enders in the betting have won with monotonous regularity in recent months.

The rugged little Italian, held on the short end of 8 to 5 odds, showed the utmost contempt for expert opinion by belting Eddie Shea, clouting Chicago featherweight, all over the ring last night and winning the unanimous decision of the referee and two judges.

Shea, returning to New York after an absence of six years and in the role of foremost contender for Bat Battalino's 126-pound crown, never could fathom Francis' unceasing attack. He won only three of the rounds.

Francis, who still can make the lightweight limit, fought entirely on the offensive, never taking a backward step.

Shea, at 126 pounds, had a four-pound pull in the weights.

130 HORSES ARE ENTERED IN BIG KENTUCKY DERBY

Entries Not As Many As Last Year But Of Better Class

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 21—(AP)—One hundred and thirty scions of equine aristocracy are nominated for the 57th running of the Kentucky Derby here Saturday, May 16.

Equipoise, largest two-year-old money winner since the Immortal Domino, and winter book favorite, is in the list made public today by M. J. Winn, president of the American Turf Association and Executive Director of Churchill Downs. The C. V. Whitney colt has opposition from such colts as Twenty Grand of the Greentree Stable, A. C. Postwick's Mate, and the Tennessee Stable's Vander Pool, not to mention any one of a dozen or more high class three-year-olds who may show real derby form before the nation's turf classic is run at the Downs.

The nominations are fewer in number this year than last, but a better quality of three-year-olds has been developed than a year ago. All three-year-old registered thoroughbreds are eligible and the only notable absentee from the list are Jamestown, George D. Widener's future, epithet of the Gifford A. Cochran stable, and Joseph E. Widener's Novelist. Jamestown's trainer had indicated the colt would be reserved for later racing. It is understood Epitaph's nomination for spring racing was withheld pending disposal of the estate, but no reason was known here for the failure to nominate Novelist.

Colts have the usual overwhelming majority, there being 108 of them compared to 18 geldings and four fillies. In all 86 owners sent in nominations. William Woodward's Belair stud which won last year with Gallant Fox; Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable and Mrs. Charles M. Armory's Sagamore stable topped the nominations with five each.

Eastern stables have the advantage here of likely candidates for Derby having nominated a larger number, but among the nominees on which western hopes may rest are Don Leon, Inisco, Siskin, Oswego, Backlog, the Bradley pair, Bar Hunter and Baramette, and the Camden hopes, Frigate Bird and Ballard.

The Audley farm, which furnished the runner-up last year in gallant Knight, nominated Knight's Call. The injury to his tendon at Agua Caliente last Sunday is expected to keep him out, however, leaving Audley without any nominee this year.

All Big Ten Teams In Action This Eve
Chicago, Feb. 21—(AP)—Northwestern and Minnesota will play their battle for the leadership of the Big Ten basketball championship race on to foreign courts tonight.

The Wildcats, upset for the first time of the season by Illinois last Monday night, will meet Iowa at Iowa City, while the Gophers, victorious five times in seven starts, will meet what ranks as more serious opposition, Ohio State at Columbus. These contests top a full list of five games.

Michigan will return to the war after a three weeks layoff, meeting Indiana at Ann Arbor. The Hoosiers and Wolverines are tied for third place, and a defeat for Minnesota would toss the victor of the Indiana-Michigan game into a tie for second position.

Wisconsin and Purdue, usually up among the contenders for the title, but experiencing an off season this year, will tangle at Lafayette, Ind., and Chicago and Illinois will meet on the latter's court.

Last Of Cubs, Sox Off For The Camps
Chicago, Feb. 21—(AP)—By hustling a little Chicago baseball fans could bid goodbye to both the second and first squads of White Sox as they depart for their respective training grounds today.

The White Sox party, 27 hands including six ball players and prospective ball players, were scheduled to leave for San Antonio, Tex., from one station at 11:30 A. M. while the Cubs had reservations on a California-bound train, leaving an hour later.

The Sox delegation included Tommy Thomas, Red Faber and Bob Weiland, pitchers, Frank Grube, catcher, and Lou Barbour, Jr., infielder. The party was headed by Manager Donnie Bush, Coach Barney Kelly, Lou Barbour, Sr., traveling secretary, with the remainder composed of sports writers and fans.

Cubs listed for the journey were Hack Wilson, Woody English, Lester Bell, Riggs Stephenson, Cliff Heathcote, Kiki Cuyler, Dan Taylor, Bill Jurgens and Vincent Barton.

TRADES IN BIG LEAGUES LIGHT DURING WINTER

Only A Few Deals Of Any Importance Were Consummated

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Feb. 21—(UP)—Traffic in baseball players has been light in the major leagues during the off-season, a check-up today revealed.

Although 20 players will wear different uniforms this season, only two direct trades have been made since the 1930 season ended and the Phillies made both of them.

They traded Lefty O'Doule, hard-bitting outfielder and Presco Thompson, second baseman, to Brooklyn for pitchers Clise Dudley, Jumbo Elliott and outfielder Hal Lee and cash.

In the other deal the Phils sent pitcher Claude Wiloughby and shortstop Tommy Thewissen to Pittsburgh for shortstop Dick Bartel.

Not a single trade has been made in the American League. The Chicago White Sox still are talking about trading Willie Kamm for Lew Fonseca, but the deal apparently is being held up because Cleveland hasn't signed Eddie Morgan for first base.

The Chicago Cubs acquired three new pitchers, purchasing Jackie May from Cincinnati, Lester Seaver from the Phillies and Bob Smith from the Boston Braves. Two players, Pitcher McAfee and outfielder Schulerich, figured in the Smith deal.

The Athletics released three veterans and all of them caught on with other major league clubs. John Ficus Quinn was signed by Brooklyn. Cy Perkins landed with the Yankees and Wally Schang joined Detroit.

Two Red Sox veterans, first baseman Phil Todd and catcher Joe Heving, went to the Athletics on waivers.

The Yankees sent outfielder Harry Rice to Washington on waivers, and signed Joe Sewell, veteran infielder, as a free agent after Cleveland had cut him adrift.

Washington released Muddy Ruel, veteran catcher, and he signed with the Red Sox. Joe Dugan, third baseman, let out by the Braves, was signed by Detroit.

Al Boal catcher, was purchased from Pittsburgh by the Braves.

FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

DAILY LENTEN DEVOTION PREPARED BY THE REV. CLARENCE H. WILSON, D.D. FOR THE COMMISSION ON EVANGELISM OF THE FEDERAL COUNCIL OF THE CHURCHES OF CHRIST IN AMERICA

THE CALL TO REPENTANCE
"Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance."—Luke 3:8. (Read Luke 3:1-14.)

Meditation
The Baptist did not employ "the word of snakes" in his preaching. "You brood of snakes!" That is the way he addressed his audience. It does not appear that they resented it. The flaming earnestness of the man atoned for his rough speech.

They thronged to hear him, for this uncouth man by the Jordan seemed to mean something. His message might be important. He called for action. It was not enough to profess repentance but profession must be attested by deeds. The psychologists tell us that emotional experiences, when not acted on are not only profitless but injurious. Doubtless they are right. Religious ecstasies tend to become a habit and a dissipation. They use up, burn out, our good impulses. At the same time they may satisfy us so that we seek to repeat them just as emotional delinquents.

The call to repentance is not only a call to be sorry; it bids us amend our lives.

"But drops of grief can ne'er repay The debts of love I owe."

John's penitents asked him what they should do; and he told them. Then they had a chance to find out how sincere they were. And what shall we do?

Prayer
Almighty and merciful God, the Fountain of all goodness, who knowest the thoughts of our hearts, we confess that we have sinned against Thee, and done evil in Thy sight. Wash us, we beseech Thee, from the stains of our past sins and give us grace and power to put away all hurtful things, that, being delivered from the bondage of sin, we may bring forth fruits worthy of repentance and following in the footsteps of Thy Blessed Son, obtain Thy mercy, and enter into Thy promised joy, Amen.

April. The ticket is Charles Unger for mayor, W. T. Hayes, John H. Russell, T. L. Schade, W. F. Vierke and S. A. Hamaker for commissioners. Harold A. Neff for police magistrate. One commissioner candidate will be dropped at the regular election as only four are to be elected.

Mrs. Floyd Beinfang of Rochelle won the first prize of fifty dollars for the favorite recipe in the contest winners of the Chicago Daily Tribune as announced Friday, February 20, 1931.

The grain testing contest of section No. 1 of the state of Illinois is being held at the high school here today (Saturday) under the supervision of Keith Weyner, high school agricultural instructor. Poultry judging and corn and grain judging events are on the program.

Cub Pitchers Ready For Sluggers Soon

Manager Rogers Hornsby let the hurlers cut loose just a little yesterday and will continue to speed up activity. To strengthen the legs, the club has instituted soccer as an important part of each day's drill, a chin-kicking match having been held every day, with more of them scheduled.

Hoover Selects Own Man For Judgeship
Washington, Feb. 20—(UP)—President Hoover sent to the Senate today the nomination of a man of his own choosing for the disputed Minnesota federal judgeship.

The name was that of Gunnar H. Nordbye, judge of the state district court.

WINTER SESSION HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY IS HELD

An Interesting Meeting Of Association Held On Thursday

Members of Rock River Valley Horticultural Society held their winter meeting on Thursday in the First Congregational church of Sterling. For various reasons the attendance was smaller than usual.

The business meeting and program was called to order about 1:30 by the vice president, Mrs. Lee Lambert of Dixon, who presided in place of the president, Merritt School, the latter being in California for the winter. In the absence of the secretary, Miss Bessie Seavey, Leroy Powers acted as secretary. The first speaker was Claude R. Hurless of Sterling, until recently president of the Sterling Vegetable Growers' Association. Mr. Hurless has recently attended several district and state horticultural conventions, and he gave an interesting account of some of the proceedings of these meetings, especially of the State Horticultural Society at Urbana. He reported that Mr. Eckert, an extensive apple grower of Belleville, Ill., advises Illinois apple growers to plant fewer commercial varieties, but better varieties, better packed. The Jonathan is best adapted to southern Illinois, and Illinois Jonathans are of better quality than western Jonathans. Apple growers of Wenatchee, Washington and other western sections admit this to be a fact and they are now planting fewer Jonathans and more of other varieties because of the competition of Illinois fruit.

Vegetable growers in session at Urbana organized a State Vegetable Growers Association. This new organization has planned to put on a state exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair. The State Horticultural society will have extensive exhibits, which will include eight flower shows, running almost continuously from June 1 to Nov. 1. They will also move citrus fruit trees from Florida and have them bearing at exposition.

Mr. Hurless referred to the closed package law which has recently gone into effect in Illinois and which will affect vegetable and fruit growers. Under this law the package must have on it a statement of the contents, the U. S. grade, by whose authority packed, etc. It will improve the grade of horticultural products.

Following Mr. Hurless' talk, Mrs. Zelma Baker sang two delightful solos, "The Poor Man's Garden," and "When Mammy Moon Swings Low."

Mr. J. Walker Robbins of Mt. Morris, proprietor of the Brayton orchards of that place, also reported on the State Horticultural meeting at Urbana, where he exhibited apples. Mr. Robbins entered apples in all classes provided for Northern Illinois exhibits, and several collections in classes open to state-wide competition. He won fifteen first and second premiums on his fruit. He also had some vegetables on display at the same meeting. The important question for Illinois apple growers at present, said Mr. Robbins, is the matter of spray residue. A very small percentage of arsenical residue is allowed on apples, especially for export, and it is necessary to remove this in some way from many of the apples grown, especially in southern Illinois where later spraying is required. There was extensive equipment for washing apples shown at this meeting, also grading and spraying machinery.

Mr. Robbins urged for the local horticultural society a closer cooperation with the Illinois State Department of Horticulture and emphasized the need of University of Illinois extension service in horticulture in this locality, along the line of pruning and spraying demonstrations.

Mrs. Lambert, who attended the meeting of the Northern Illinois Horticultural Society in Stockton in December, gave an interesting summary of an illustrated lecture by the editor of "Better Homes and Gardens." Garden work should be an inspiration rather than drudgery. Express one's self in the arrangement of plants or landscaping. Avoid hodge-podge gardens. Get a vision of the way the picture will look when completed.

A question box was opened and several questions answered and discussed by fruit growers present. These questions were in regard to apple varieties, San Jose scale, strawberries, etc.

In a further discussion it was brought out that it would be possible to secure the 1931 meeting of the Northern Illinois Horticultural Society for Sterling if it is desired to make an effort to get various interested organization to co-operate in attempting to secure this convention.

The next meeting of the Rock River Valley Horticultural Society will be held in June.

GINGER'S SAKE

Both Phil and Mr. Tolliver were favorably impressed by the detectives, Marker and Holt. They were quiet in manner, rather unobtrusive than otherwise, extremely business-like.

These preliminaries attended to, Marker said he would like as much advance information as possible before meeting the others of the household, and they drove out to Doornede for a conference.

Phil gave a brief account of what had happened, described the general layout of the establishment at Mill Rush, and at Marker's request, gave him a written list of Glinger's guests, names and addresses, and of the servants.

WITH Pat and Eddy, known to the Tollivers from childhood, he was quickly satisfied, and showed little interest in blind Benny and his wife, but of all the strangers, guests as well as servants, he asked searching questions and took the names of every one.

Phil's efficient habits proved useful then, for she was quickly able to oblige him, giving Speed's father in Massachusetts and the references Bard had given when he first came, which she had not bothered to investigate. She turned over to him, with the references of the Tollivers, the answers she had received to her letters of inquiry.

Marker was frank to say that his offhand suspicions lay with Benito, Angelo and Pietro.

"I regret to say that we suspect them, too," admitted Phil reluctantly, "but it is only because they are foreigners. They are devoted to Glinger, they love their work, and are heartbroken at our suspicion."

"Also," added Mr. Tolliver fairly, "remember that they have been surrounded all the time by five wide-awake young people, and have had no chance to make trouble."

"Accomplices, likely," said Marker.

"G" the three, I suppose Pietro is most to be suspected," said Phil. "He is a sullen, taciturn person, and the boys have had to watch him incessantly to restrain him from turning the club into a speakeasy."

MARKER was annoyed that Phil insisted upon keeping the $30,000 available for instant payment, and that she adhered to her determination to pay it over on demand without a moment's delay. He explained in vain that it was his policy as a good detective to catch the criminals first and get the victim afterward, this allowing more play—and more credit—for those in charge the privilege of preparing the coffee there. Mrs. Willis Nestor of Sterling, bled a large cake, iced in white, decorated with the words "Farewell" in pink. The Nestors, at one time were Fessler's nearest neighbors.

Altogether the occasion, so ably sponsored by Mesdames Walter Older, Harry McGinnis and Lee Fuqua was greatly enjoyed and will long be remembered by those present. To number the guests in attendance would have been impossible as the hall was filled almost to capacity.

The Fessler family expect to move March 2, to their new home which they purchased east of Dixon. We wish them health, happiness and prosperity in their new home, and much as we regret to see them leave us we will extend the glad hand of welcome to our new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Reglin and family.

Mrs. Z. G. Reiff and daughter, Beatrice of Rockford spent from Tuesday until Friday with the former's mother, Mrs. Jennie Angle.

Max Sweet was admitted to the Deaconess hospital at Freeport for treatment Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Davis entertained the Loyal Links class of the Church of the Brethren at the Davis home Wednesday evening.

There were 46 present. Following a social time and games of various kinds, refreshments were served.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dolan of Mt. Morris, February 17, a daughter, Marys Joyce. Mrs. Dolan was formerly Miss Ruth Gilbert of Polo.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Paul Strite, Wednesday, February 18, a 7 1/2 pound daughter, Aileen Yvonne. Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Summes returned home Tuesday from a several days visit with relatives in Oregon, Chicago and Mantino.

Dan Abbott returned home Wednesday from Indianapolis where he had been the guest of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Guio.

Miss Evelyn Bridge is threatened with pneumonia.

Dr. W. L. Karcher of Freeport was a professional caller Wednesday.

The W. M. S. will meet with Mrs. W. C. Reynolds Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. John Holzimer will lead the devotionals and Mrs. Sarah Schreffler will be the study leader.

February 26 has been set as the date to dedicate the new basement.

The Signal Lights class will meet Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Willard Rucker.

Mrs. Anna Byers was a dinner guest in the Eugene Schell home Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Robeson attended a meeting of the board of Methodist Memorial hospital at Freeport Monday.

James Devaney and George and his professional skill. Phil was adamant. He might catch the criminals if he could, she said, but her one interest was to get Glinger back uninjured.

Texan Kills Huge Beast With Pistol

The biggest mountain lion ever killed in western Texas—a 156-pound beast that measured seven and a half feet in length and had killed more than 400 sheep on the ranch of George Brown, near Alpine—was killed by a six-shooter in the hand of Lee Duncan after Duncan had trailed the animal for two weeks, treed it with his hunting dogs, Duncan and the dead cougar are shown here. The animal's great strength enabled it to escape from the many traps that had been set for it. Apparently it killed sheep for the love of killing, few of its victims being eaten.

Three Children Die In Midnight Blaze

Chicago, Feb. 20—(AP)—Three children were smothered or burned to death and their parents and five brothers and sisters injured when flames that followed an explosion trapped them in the second story of their little frame home shortly after midnight.

The dead are Adeline 10; Leonard 8; and Dorothy Havlicek 3.

Adeline died in a hospital this morning. Her brother and sister were found dead in bed by firemen after the rest of the family of ten had been helped through a second floor window to a truck driven up to the rescue.

The father, Robert, is a metal worker. The family was stunned by the blast, thought to have been caused by a leak in a combination gas and coal stove, and flames were sweeping through the house before an alarm was given by employees in a nearby garage.

Truck Driver Killed By Electric Train

Glencoe, Ill., Feb. 20—(UP)—A truck driver was killed and a Negro woman injured seriously today in a spectacular crossing accident at the Harbor street North Shore electric station at 8 a. m. today.

Butter and eggs were strewn for 600 feet along the right-of-way after Landey Waters, 27, drove his creamery truck on the track and it was hit by a southbound electric train. The wreckage of the truck was carried past the station on the front of the train brushing a Negro named Harris off the platform and cutting her severely.

Waters, who had been married only a month and worked for the Lambert Creamery Company, was taken from the wreckage when the train was finally stopped. Apparently he was killed instantly.

Cases of eggs and tubs of butter flew in all directions when the train hit the truck and ground it to bits under the wheels of the front car.
